Thoughts extracted from the book “Encounters with Peace” (ENCONTROS COM A PAZ), by Trigueirinho – Association Irдин Editora

1 Peace is the innermost aspiration of many, even of those who in the external world find themselves dominated by the forces of conflict.	2 Thought is like a probe that when correctly used can reach unknown depths.	3 Complete donation is realized when someone offers something which for them is necessary, without missing it.	4 Those who expect nothing can see in diverse events the work of Grace, and from this attitude is derived immense calm.	5 The correct use of the word veils developments in the consciousness that at first the human cannot perceive.	6 It is the deepening of consciousness and not material victories that will one day be recognized as progress.	7 A meaningful evolutionary work is constructed by clarity of the goal and by faith.
8 The clarity of the goal is as a flash of lightening that, when released, knows where it must arrive.	9 The being that feels that it deserves something higher than what life has offered to it does not recognize that which it has been given.	10 Those who receive the call do not fail to respond to it, nor to put into practice what it indicates to them.	11 Because truths are so little understood, silence is the best companion.	12 It is not possible to take opposite directions at the same time, thus the singleness of the goal is essential for evolution.	13 In order for the work of a server to be realized, faith is necessary.	14 The individual who is aware of the path that it must take becomes spontaneously humble.
15 An inappropriate truth thrown to the world is a bond that holds the individual to this world.	16 To complain is characteristic of those who have not fully assumed the decision to follow the evolutionary path.	17 The human being often sees itself in a dark room and asks for light, nonetheless keeping the doors and windows closed.	18 We must put into practice as faithfully as possible the instruction transmitted, because in it we will find the keys for the new stages.	19 If the human being could recognize the damage caused by vanity then he or she would take care to keep it far away from themselves.	20 Every test holds within itself an opportunity for renewal and the deepening of the vows.	21 An inability to follow spiritual impulses will be overcome in the cycle that is approaching.
22 At this time, an intense evolutionary stimulus permeates groups that are larger and better prepared.	23 Devastating evil exists, but unsurpassed is the power of Good.	24 Keeping itself focused on the fragility of form, the human being loses sight of the reality of the inner fortress.	25 Impurities exist, but greater is the transparency of the depths of the being.	26 This planet will be liberated from the various degrees of violence that it shelters today.	27 We cannot reach a dignified spiritual life without knowing the happiness of pure obedience to the Law.	28 In a conflict of any type or of any level there are no winners.
29 The human being should not deny or neglect anything that has been given to them, but he or she should also not become a slave to any gift.	30 To fulfill the spiritual will, a will that is a supraphysical energy, means primarily to not nourish personal points of view.
